

SOMETIMES THE INTERNET STINKS?

THE DISSIDENT FROGMAN • WEDNESDAY, APRIL 23, 2008 - 0816 ZULU TIME | CULTURE WARRIORS USA

<http://www.thedissidentfrogman.com/blog/link/sometimes-the-internet-stinks/>

? And sometimes it shines .

Finding Victor Davis Hanson , Frank Miller and Bill Whittle discussing actors and the movie industry in the same thread.

Now I could definitely find worse ways to start the day.

(Scroll down the comments for Miller and Whittle)

Update

Oh and, if by any chance Frank Miller was to read this: please Sir, drop the bloody ?creative? agency who put up that unserviceable excuse for a blog in Flash—a plague that unfortunately affects just about every movie site these days.

Using Flash to power a blog is like standing at the Hot Gates hoping to stop Xerxes' millions only armed with a feather duster and the complete work of Jean-Paul Sartre, and you are losing all the benefits of the networking effect induced by any decent blogging application1.

I'll build you a blog Frank—Hope you don't mind me calling you Frank, Mr Miller Sir—Just ask.

Case in point: I couldn't link to any entry of interest in your ?blog? from this very post. For one thing because I couldn't read any of them entirely: the display is broken—very frustrating, considering how interested I am in what you have to say—But also because there are no darn permanent links to grab in the first place.

Links in this entry

http://mt.pajamasmedia.com/xpress/victordavishanson/2008/04/19/give_me_a_warren_oates_or_jack.php

<http://victorhanson.com/>

<http://www.mycityscreeams.com/index.html>

<http://www.ejectejecteject.com/>

<http://www.mycityscreeams.com/index2.html?swf=blog>

<http://www.thedissidentfrogman.com/blog>

Next entry:

Of lines in the sand

Previous entry:

If a database had tits, hers would have been up